

Team DCRW Fulfills its Mission

Douglas County Republican Women recently held two candidate events to allow voters to hear from those who seek to represent Douglas County. DCRW's goal was to educate voters with unbiased and substantive questioning by respected leaders.

Wednesday's CD4 Forum did not disappoint. The Hons. Bill Cadman and Tom Wiens challenged the candidates on the issues they would face in Congress. Voters heard the details of how each one will approach votes, impart change where needed, and apply their values to federal governance.

The entry and exit polls showed where people stand. For some, this forum clearly made a difference; for others, it solidified their choice.

DCRW meeting attendees received a similar opportunity last week for the contested Republican primary races for Commissioner District III and District Attorney, moderated by the Hon. Chris Richardson.

In these events, DCRW was grateful to have moderators who are experienced and well-read on what candidates will face if they get that new day-job. Your DCRW Board team worked hard to present orderly, fair, and organized events.

Some of our state legislator candidates continued their valuable work at the Capitol, and were needed there for strong voices and votes on the days of our candidate events. At each event, we thanked them for their dedication and the choice they made – they chose their duties over their races, which is the honorable and right thing to do.

DCRW.org meets on the third Wednesday of the month.
